

Krackatoa

Andre William Owen is an NZ composer/songwriter behind Krackatoa which has been releasing music since 1998 comprising 7 albums. Having developed a diverse musical palette spanning many genres ranging from orchestral to psychedelic rock with a passion for music in film, his music emphasizes melody and texture with varied influences from Ennio Morricone, The Moody Blues, Sparks, and Joan Armatrading to classical greats such as Sibelius, Dvorák, and Vaughan Williams.

Krackatoa's music has been licensed from all over the world in various media categories ranging from advertising, Italian fashion to sports & documentary as you can see in some examples below.

Where do you see yourself
2023 Album Bandcamp link

Magazine U.S. Premiere: Ermanno Scervino's gorgeous F/W '13 ad campaign

Music – Something's in the woods (krackatoa)
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vDckfUXmvJg>

The Rider UK Fashion Video

Music – Running with wise fools (krackatoa)
<https://vimeo.com/309504846>

People of the mountains (documentary)

Music – The Big Out there (krackatoa)
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yjC8Iqc1Yfw>

Some Musical Highlights

Pretend and walk outside

Noahs Stark

On the northern edge of town

Hello there my friend